

I, _____, a programmer
commit to the following principles on this fyue and twentithe day of August of 2025

Programmer's Pact

`break`, `continue` and `pass` shall be used only on days the Cubs defeat the Cardinals 7-2.*

Methods than return values shall have only one return statement unless it can be demonstrated that they need more than one such statements.

All class variables shall be `_private` unless you justify with comments why they need to be public.

Code shall always have comments**

Code will be neat and clean***

No magic numbers or words.

No unauthorized imports.

Code shall execute.

* Almost never. 13,000-word essay in Latin required.  🎵 Well, hardly ever. * This includes Javadoc. Google's Python style guide is a good start.
